

Trends of Scholarly Publishing and Digital Library Services in the New Century

Instructor: Peter Zhou

Affiliation: Assistant University Librarian and Director of East Asian Library,
University of California, Berkeley

This lecture examines major issues and practices in scholarly publishing and the development of digital library services. It focuses on the electronic resource development and management for Chinese studies.

Course Outline

Part One: The Changing Landscape of Academic Research, Scholarly Publishing and Library Services

Part Two: Electronic Resource Management (Organization of Digital Collections, Digital Preservation, Licensing and Rights Management, and Consortial Practice in Developing Digital Library Services for Chinese Studies)

Part Three: Content Development: A Case Study of the Digitization of Chinese Rubbings

Part Four: Organization of Temporal and Spatial Knowledge and Historical GIS: A Case Study of the Digitization of Historical Maps

Reading Materials

1. Agre, Philip E. 2003. "Information and Institutional Change: The Case of Digital Libraries" In Digital Library Use: Social Practice in Design and Evaluation, edited by Ann Peterson Bishop, Nancy A. Van House, and Barbara P. Battenfield. Cambridge: MIT Press, pp. 219-240.
2. Lougee, Wendy Pradt. 2002. Diffuse Libraries: Emergent Roles for the Research Library in the Digital Age. Council on Library and Information Resources. Washington, D.C.
<http://www.clir.org/pubs/reports/pub108/contents.html>
3. Marcum, Deanna. 2003. "Requirements for the Future Digital Library" In The Journal of Academic Librarianship, Vol. 29, No. 5, pp. 276-279.
4. Browse METS Metadata Encoding & Transmission Standard
<http://www.loc.gov/standards/mets>